H. P. DAVISON
OF J. P. MORGAN & CO.

Wall Street three quarters of a century ago was the street of the merchants. It still is. The gamblers and the jugglers come and make their stir, and go; in a week they are forgotten says June McClure. No place on earth appears to be more shifting or more transitory; no place is really more permanent. In half a dozen silent counting-rooms sit the same old merchant firms and institutions that have held the power since the beginning; the Jews, spick and span and polished, in their ornate offices; the Yankers, direct, matter-of-fact, rather careless in their dress, in the same dark old frescoed rooms where they started forty years ago and more. These are the men who year by year, through a sure, continuous growth, have come to control in a larger and larger measure the corporate capital of the nation.

American Ambassadors.

National dignity and self respect requires that proper provision be made for our representatives abroad so that they might live in accordance with the standard already set up by the representatives of other nations, and so that a poor man might follow a rich man, or the reverse, without occasioning any adverse comment. This reform has now been accomplished by the passage of the Lowden bill, which will, in time, result in our Government owning a residence in every country to which it sends Ambassadors, one that will compare favorably with those of other nations one to which American citizens can point with pride, and to which they may go feeling that they have citizens' rights therein.—From "Permanent Housing for Diplomats," in the American Review of Reviews for June.

Through Trestle.

A double header coal train went through a burning trestle on the Seaboard Air Line near Bostie, N.C., and both engineers and firemen were killed. Other trainmen were injured.

A Peek Into His Pocket.

Would show the box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve that E. S. Loper, a carpenter, of Marilla, N. Y. always carries. "I have never had a cut, wound, bruise, or sore it would not soon heal," he writes. Greatest healer of burns, boils, scalds, chapped hands and lips, fever-sores, skin eruptions, eczema, corns and piles. 25c at all druggists.

PREACHER-AUTOIST'S GRIEF.

Will Give all his Possessions to Parents of Girl He Killed.

Glenns Falls, N. Y., May 28.—The Rev. Thomas Grieves, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Greenwich, today announced that he would sell all his possessions and turn over the proceeds to the parents of little Mary Maginn of Saratoga, whom he recently ran down and killed with his automobile. The car has already been sold and the rector's cottage in Riverside is on the market. A coronor's jury held Mr. Grieves blameless for the accident.

Lightning Kills Few.

In 1906 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chances of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madison, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c at all druggists.

Threaten To Strike.

Howard O. Peet, vice president of the Brotherhood of American Firemen, stated last night in Washington that unless the men are given a raise of 20 per cent. in wages on the roads affected, a strike will be declared.

Saved His Wife's Life.

"My wife would have been in her grave today," writes O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., "if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery. She was down in her bed, not able to get up without help. She had a severe bronchial trouble and a dreadful cough. I got her a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and she soon began to mend, and was well in a short time." Infallible for coughs and colds, its the most reliable remedy on earth for desperate lung trouble, hemorrhages, lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, croup and whooping cough. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Our Old Friend The Comet.

Halley's comet was photographed twice last week at the Lick Observatory. The wanderer is now a little farther than Jupiter from the sun, that is about 500,000,000 miles.

A Terrible Blunder.

To neglect liver trouble. Never do it. Take Dr. King's New Life Pills on the first sign of constipation, biliousness or inactive bowels and prevent virulent indigestion, jaundice or gall stones. They regulate liver, stomach and bowels and build up your health. Only 25c at all druggists.

Probably Untrue.

A rumor reached the city yesterday that there had been a homicide near Lafayette, one white man killing another, but investigation failed to find any foundation for the rumor.

Woman Past Help.

Chandler, Okla.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Ella Flowers says, "I hardly know how to thank you for the good that Cardui has done me. Before I tried Cardui, I thought I was past help, but after taking it, I was relieved at once, and gained at least 10 pounds. Everybody says I look so much better. I am still improving greatly." Many women are completely worn-out and discouraged, on account of womanly weakness. Are you? Have you not tried Cardui? It only needs a few doses to convince you that Cardui is just what you need. TO PLAY WITH EXPRESSION

Amateur Musicians Should Look for the Exceptional Notes and Passages Requiring Accentuation.

If those amateur musicians who lament, "Oh, if I could only play with expression," would only cultivate the habit of looking a little closer for the marks of expression, their playing would be attended with better results. Here are just a few of the points for which a student should search before he has discontinued his investigation of the work.

After reading the piece through, and before attempting to play it, we should always look for the expressive elements in it—that is to say, the notes which are exceptional to meter, rhythm, key or mode; in other words, for the syncopations, long and short notes occurring by exception, repetitions, higher or lower auxiliary notes, chromatic notes, intervals or chords, high notes replacing low notes, notes which change the direction or plan of the rhythmical design, suspensions or appoggiaturas, etc. The pupil should discover the notes and passages requiring accentuation, and should mark them himself, accents, stops, f's, sf's, ff's, p's, pp's, etc., and correct all the faulty expression marks.

In this way the player may come nearer to the composer's intention and make his music more interesting to his hearers.—M. Mathis Lussy.

APPRECIATED HIS SERMONS

Young Minister Showed His Admiration for Bishop Whitaker by Using His Discourses.

"Though Bishop Whitaker," said a Philadelphia clergyman, "left strict orders that his sermons were not to be printed in book form, the fact remains that, in newspapers and magazines and weeklies many of this eloquent man's fine productions will go down to posterity."

"Lovers of good English have long saved Bishop Whitaker's sermons. In fact—"

The clergyman smiled.

"In fact, the mother of a young minister once said to the bishop:

"Oh, sir, if you will consent to meet my son, he will be so glad! He so often preaches your sermons to his people."

DOING GOOD WORK.

Miss Jean Gordon, who recently resigned the office of factory inspector in New Orleans, will not give up the work entirely. She will give free as much of her time as her duties will permit. She will continue to keep an interest in the employment bureau which she established in connection with the work of factory inspection and will direct this branch as far as possible.

Miss Gordon established the scholarship fund which is maintained by a small appropriation from the city, the dues of the members of the New Era club and donations. This fund enables a mother to receive the wages her child would be earning in the factory while he is kept at school. This is done when the child's labor is necessary for the support of the family.

A NEW BORROW.

A new Borrow has been born into the world of books; a new chronicler of the sayings and the lives of wandering tinkers, of fighting smiths and of lovable women who live in ruined huts with lovable men.

The second Borrow is Jeffery Farnol, a young author, who is fortunate to have for his literary godfather Mr. Shirley Byron Jevons, editor of the Sportman—the friend of his boyish ambitions. It is in "The Broad Highway" that Jeffery Farnol stands revealed as the new Borrow, and if he does not write another book—this has gone into its third impression in no time—the young author has been responsible for one classic.—Baily's Magazine.

INTERESTING PUBLIC SCHOOL.

The Washington Irving girls' school in New York has 3,900 pupils and seems to be one of the most interesting in the country, as the girls are always planning something that is out of the ordinary in school work. Last week they initiated Mrs. John A. Dix into the Order of the Daisy, a society in which most of the prominent women of New York have already been initiated. The girls are said to plan all the entertainments they give.

MANY ORDERS FOR PHEASANT

Farmers of Idaho Think Birds Will Prove Valuable as Pest Exterminators.

Roland C. Voddard is in Boise, Ida., after an extensive trip through the southern part of the state, where he has been placing orders for hundreds of pheasants among the farmers, who have been persuaded that the birds will prove valuable as grasshopper exterminators.

"I have placed these birds in Wyoming and Utah," said Mr. Voddard, "and everywhere I have been most successful. The birds apparently have an unlimited capacity for grasshoppers and consume quantities of them every day. The old-fashioned idea of using paris green and other poisons to rid any country of the pests is rapidly giving way."

"In some parts of Utah last summer many ranchers used a sort of tin net, which they dragged across the field and resulted in the killing of millions of the insects. On one field of 120 acres 30 sacks filled with grasshoppers were taken by means of these nets. But the pheasants are far more effective."

"There will be hundreds of pheasants in the southwestern part of the state this year as a result of the activity of the farmers."

"If turkeys are allowed to run in the fields the benefits are great, for the big birds can live for a long time on a diet of grasshoppers. The amount of the pests which the pheasant will consume will be nearly twice as much."

"The idea of placing pheasants on farming tracts for the purpose of doing away with the grasshoppers was started years ago in Kansas, when farmers of that state ran out of paris green and had to find some new scheme of ridding their country of grasshoppers."—New York Herald.

ANY OF THEM

"The bride was led to the altar" Is an exceedingly foolish remark; As a matter of fact it isn't correct— She could find her way in the dark.

TOO EAGER TO PROMISE.

H. B. Irving once had an amusing experience in Glasgow. For the part of the young prince in "Charles I.," a young Scotch girl had been carefully coached, and all went well until she appeared in the poignant scene where Mr. Irving, as Charles, has an agonizing leave-taking with his wife and children, and goes out to execution. "Promise me," Charles says to the little prince, "that you will take care of your mother. And swear that you will never let them make you king while your brother Charles is alive." To which the child is supposed to reply: "I'll be torn to pieces first."

On this dreadful night, however, Mr. Irving only got as far as "promise me that you will take care of your mother." "I'll be torn to pieces first—st," was the annihilating reply.

THE LILIES OF CUBA.

"In Havana," Mrs. Beekman Winthrop, wife of the assistant secretary of the navy, said, "you may buy lovely lilies for less than a cent apiece. But no one who ever has visited Cuba will forget the glory of the lilies seen from the first of March until the spring departs. They seem to be a permanent feature of the landscape, and boys carrying great baskets heaped with the flowers are part of the daily sights in the streets."

THE REMINDER.

"You forgot to get that silk for me?" she asks. "Why, I tied that strip of cloth around your finger this morning to remind you of it." The husband stares blankly at the strip of cloth, and then says: "Well, I'll be jiggered! And here I've been trying all day to remember how I happened to hurt my finger!"

Trunk Coverings of Sealskin.

The skin of the common harbor or marble seal is still used to some extent in Norway for trunk coverings. This seal is also found on the coasts of the United States, especially on the Pacific side.

Rooster Hard to Kill.

A Buff Orpington rooster, missing for three weeks, was found wedged in the wooden foundation of a haystack at Stanford, Kent, England. The bird was as thin as a lath, but now is crowing as lustily as ever. It was twenty days without food.

Interpreting Our Laws.

Ellen, whose family in the old country had known her by the more prosaic name of Ellen, lost no opportunity of promulgating all the freedoms of the new country that came her way. Sometimes they took an inverted form of handing out orders to her mistress. "Yes'll be careful, mum, that yes puts no paper in th' garbage bucket. Thim is orders, mum, from th' garbage gintlemen."

Canada's Mixed Races.

The Bible is already sold in Canada in 90 different tongues, but 17 other races are now asking that editions be printed in their languages. The British Foreign Bible society has published the Scriptures in 424 different tongues, but it seems 17 more must be made to meet the needs of Canada's heterogeneous population.

HOW TO BUY FURNISHINGS.

If you had to furnish a home, but had very little means, what would you buy first? This is a problem that many young women have had to solve and that will have to be solved in the future by many more. The best thing to do is to buy only necessary articles at first and to buy furnishings of good quality. It is far better to have a few good household articles, and the touch of a woman's hand over all than to have a house full of cheap things that only "make a show." Buy slowly and well. It is not quantity that counts in the long run. Quality coupled with artistic arrangement is the essential thing.

THE ONE EXCEPTION.

Seymour—I hear that Snodkin owes everybody in the city.

Ashley—Don't you believe it; that report is a cruel exaggeration; I was personally assured by Davis that Snodkin didn't owe him and never had owed him a single cent.

Seymour—Davis? Who is Davis?

Ashley—Why, he's the stamp clerk in the postoffice.

HER WISH.

"So you let him say that and get away with it! Oh—oh—oh—"

"I suppose you wish you had been born a man?"

"No, I wish you had!"

Before and After.

When a girl is engaged to a man she believes him when he tells her he would love to have her walk on him with her tiny feet; after she is married to him she would be satisfied to have him willing to put her rubbers on her without acting as if it were killing him.
